			Ae. 22 yrs. Eldest son of Wm. R. & Charlotte Post. "Moved by a patriotism pure and unselfish he joined the army of the Potomac May 18, 1861. Amid the pelting of storms and icy cold of the following winter he helped to maintain the picket lines between Manassas and Washington. At the seige of Yorktown Va. he contracted a fever and with 800 other sick or wounded soldiers was transported to New York, surviving his arrival there but 8 days. Alike with those who poured out their life blood upon their countrys battle fields - a last libation to liberty, shall the memory of the thousands who have fallen by disease in the same service be cherished by a
